Dartmouth View Planes Info Session

Over the past year, HRM Community Planning has been working with consultants CBCL Limited on a review of the Dartmouth View Planes. The purpose of those view planes is to preserve public views of the harbour in recognition of their importance in community identity. The review is almost complete and some interesting changes are being proposed. Changes that alter the way we look at and think about view planes and the way they shape development in our city.

Come out for an informative evening hosted by HRM and CBCL Limited to learn more about their approach to view plane protection and what it will mean for development in downtown Dartmouth.
